

Katherine Peele, FAIA, LEED AP serves as Chief Practice Officer and Chairman of the Board for LS3P, a southeast based architecture, interiors and planning firm with 12 offices and a staff of 450. A Fellow of the American Institute of Architects, she served as president of AIA North Carolina in 2000 and currently serves as a strategic advisor for AIA National. In 2019, Katherine was awarded the AIA North Carolina Gold Medal, the highest honor for an architect in North Carolina. She currently serves on the NC State Foundation Board of Directors and the NC State College of Design Leader's Council where she also teaches part-time. Katherine joined LS3P (formerly Boney Architects) in 1988 and has focused much of her career on the design of educational facilities.

Katherine is married and has twin daughters, Cameron and Morgan, who are finishing their degrees at UNC and NC State respectively. She enjoys golf, skiing and hiking and dabbles in watercolor and acrylic painting.