

Whitney Westbrook

Global Talent Acquisition & People Operations Executive

Whitney Westbrook is a strategic thought leader with a track record of winning in highly matrixed, publicly traded companies, including a 15-year career at Bank of America. She held multiple leadership roles during her BofA tenure including Head of Talent Acquisition for Wholesale Banking - which spanned the Wholesale Credit, Global Treasury, Business Banking and Commercial Banking businesses - and Head of Campus Talent for Global Technology and Operations.

Whitney also served as the Market HR partner for the top-performing Bank of America Triangle Market prior to her departure in 2022.

In 2022, Whitney joined Morrisville-based ChannelAdvisor as the inaugural Director of Talent Acquisition where she worked to establish an end to end talent practice in advance of the recent acquisition of ChannelAdvisor by CommerceHub

Currently, Whitney serves as the Chair of the Wake Tech Community College Foundation Board, and she is a dynamic relationship manager and diversity champion focused on delivering people solutions that drive our businesses and communities forward.

Whitney is also a published author who writes about navigating midlife, mostly with grace. Her work has been featured by Love What Matters, Grown and Flown and Parenting Teens and Tweens among others. Follow her at SoVeryWhitney.com or on Facebook at SoVeryWhitney.

Whitney resides in Cary with her husband of 23 years, Neil. They are parents of son Parker (19) and daughter Hadley (17) and are almost empty nesters.